

ER 89-2720/2

Washington, D. C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

[Redacted]
O/DDA

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

[Redacted]
James H. Taylor
Executive Director

cc: DDA
O/Personnel

Distribution:

0-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono
1-DDA
1-OP (File)
1-Chmn/MAG (LG)
1-[Redacted]
1-ER

STAT

~~SECRET~~

ER 89-2720/8

Washington, D.C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

[Redacted]
DA/OMS

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

[Redacted]
James H. Taylor
Executive Director

cc: DDA
O/Personnel

Distribution:

0-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono
1-DDA
1-OP (File)
1-Chmn/MAG
1-[Redacted]
1-ER [Redacted]

STAT

S E C R E T

Washington, D. C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

[Redacted]
DA/OIT

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

[Redacted]
James H. Taylor
Executive Director

cc: DDA
O/Personnel

Distribution:

0-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono
1-DDA
1-OP(File)
1-Chmn/Mag
1-[Redacted]
1-ER

STAT

S E C R E T

Washington, D. C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

[Redacted]
DS&T/OSO

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

[Redacted]
✓ James H. Taylor
Executive Director

cc: DDS&T
O/Personnel

Distribution:

0-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono
1-DDS&T
1-OP (File)
1-Chmn/MAG
1-[Redacted]
1-ER

STAT

S E C R E T

Washington, D.C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

DO/EA

Dear

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

 James H. Taylor
Executive Director

cc: DDO
O/Personnel

Distribution:

O-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono
1-DDO
1-OP (File)
1-Chmn/MAG
1-
1-ER

STAT

S E C R E T

Central Intelligence Agency

ER 89-2720/4

Washington, D.C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

[redacted]
DS&T/FBIS

Dear [redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

[redacted]
✓ James H. Taylor
Executive Directorcc: DDS&T
O/Personnel

Distribution:

0-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono
1-DDS&T
1-OP (FILE)
1-Chmn/MAG
1-[redacted]
T-ER

STAT

S E C R E T

ER 89-2720/3

Washington, D. C. 20505

June 23, 1989

STAT

[redacted]
DCI/SIO

Dear [redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your participation in the Secretarial/Clerical Management Advisory Group and for your role in continuing the MAG's successful Secretary of the Year awards.

Your time on the MAG was an opportunity for the Agency to benefit from your contributions, but I hope as well that it enabled you to learn more about our organization. MAG comments on secretarial and clerical issues are helpful to senior Agency officials and clearly play a role in our recognition that the secretarial profession should be enhanced with new opportunities. The group's role in the evolving IS system prove that Secretarial/Clerical MAGs can make a difference in providing fresh ideas to Agency management.

I encourage you to support the new MAG members and to continue your interest in making the Agency a better place for all employees.

Sincerely,

STAT

[redacted]
James H. Taylor
Executive Directorcc: D/SIO
O/Personnel

Distribution:

0-Addressee
1-EXDIR Chrono.
1-D/SIO
1-OP (FILE)
1-Chmn/MAG
1-[redacted]
CLEAR

STAT

S E C R E T